Two-thirds of a company's score is based on the results of the Institute's Trust Index Employee survey, which is sent to a random sample of employees from each company. The survey asks questions related to their attitudes about management's credibility, overall job satisfaction, and camaraderie. The other third of the scoring is based on the company's responses to the Institute's Culture Audit, which includes detailed questions about pay and benefit programs and a series of open-ended questions about hiring practices, internal communications, training, recognition programs and diversity efforts.
