

JLL Furthers Depth of Retail Services in Northern California

Laura Tinetti joins fast-growing retail brokerage team in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO – 6 Sept., 2016 – In an indication that San Francisco’s retail sector is going from strength to strength, JLL has announced the appointment of another senior retail specialist to its growing retail team in Northern California. Laura Tinetti, a 15-year veteran with extensive expertise in retail real estate in Northern California over the last 10 years, has joined the firm as Senior Vice President in San Francisco. Tinetti is the third retail expert to join the JLL team in less than a month.

“Laura deepens our talent bench that already provides a wealth of expertise to retailers and institutional landlords throughout the Bay Area and Northern California,” said Jeff Badstubner, Retail Brokerage lead in the Bay Area for JLL. “As real estate decision making becomes more complex for retailers and property owners, having insight from experienced professionals like Laura who have the pulse of the market and fully understand their clients’ often-changing businesses will prove invaluable to our client base.”

Prior to joining JLL, Tinetti was a decorated, top producing retail broker in San Francisco with a clientele including national, regional and local retail chains. She has successfully developed and implemented creative leasing programs for major retail shopping centers and gaming properties.

A volleyball player, Tinetti played professionally in Europe and at the collegiate level for the University of San Francisco Dons. She was an event manager for the San Francisco Giants before embarking on a career in the real estate business. She graduated from the University of San Francisco with a bachelor of science in Business Management and is a member of the International Council of Shopping Centers (ICSC).

Earlier this month, JLL announced the appointment to the retail team of Executive Vice President Ben Lazzareschi, Vice President Amy Hopkins, and Associate Katherine Rush.
